Know The Definitive Guideline!

Although the alphabets in the English language and Spanish language are the same, there are some special characters in the Spanish language, which you will not find in the English language as they don't exist. Such an attitude is enye (ñ).

We don't need to use these special characters regularly. But often we need to use a special character that is not present in english languages and we also don't have any dedicated key(s) to write them using our keyboards.

Does not mean that it is impossible to write these special characters? No, you will be able to write them in a laptop using a particular key combination. Today we will learn how to type ñ in laptop windows 10.

The Processes of Typing ñ or Ñ

Process - 1: Using Numpad

To type enye on your laptop quickly, you can use a Numpad on your laptop keyboard. Here are the simple steps to write enye:
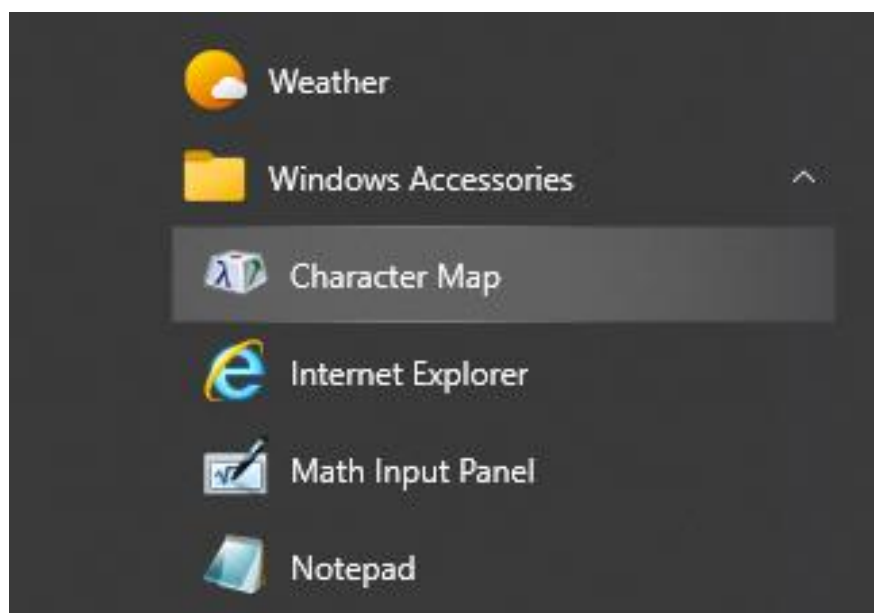

At first, enable the Numpad by pressing num lk. If it does not work, press the fn button during the typing with the Numpad.

Press alt + 164 or alt + 0241 to write ñ. And alt + 165 or alt + 0209 to write Ñ.

ñ = Alt + 164 / Alt + 0241Ñ = Alt + 165 / Alt + 0209

Process - 2: Using Character Map

Go to start menu and find the folder Windows Accessories. Click on the drop down menu and open the Character Map.

Now, you can see the ñ at the bottom right corner!

For capital enye, select the Advanced View option and search. Wish you'll find it there now easily!
